Is your advertisement in the Banner? If not, it is your fault, not ours. The Banner is published in the interest of the people of this section, and our advertising columns speak for themselves.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hall tender their sympathy in their bereavement, caused by the death of their little son, Carlton, which occurred Tuesday afternoon. The little fellow was sick only a few hours.

Do we want better spellers among our coming men and women? If so, let all the schools in Washington county fall in line. The spelling contests in every county is the program of State Superintendent Holloway. The details will be given later.

A most horrible accident occurred Monday morning just south of town. Two of the small boys of N. B. Hays cut a tree, and as it fell his little two year old son was caught under it. His head was crushed and death was instantaneous. The Banner joins the friends of the bereaved family in tendering sympathy.

Have you been in your school yet? Go and see what your boy is doing. That boy or girl is dearer to you than the bank, the store, the farm, the orange grove, or the cattle by the thousand on the range. Next to you, the best real friend to your child is the teacher. Are you helping or hindering the work of the school? The teacher, nine cases out of ten, knows more than you do about school teaching and management. Encourage him or her.

Some one has said that the supreme human achievement is to make resolutions and keep them. If our contribution to life was only to live in compliance with the beautiful sentiment expressed in the tremendously grand injunction of that old Latin father of the church, Tertullian—"to wish ill, to do ill, to speak ill, or to think ill of any one, we are equally forbidden without exception—it would go far toward the emancipation of the world; toward the advent of an earthly paradise.

Democracy's Clean Sweep.

Not an Office Lost in Washington County.—Prohibition Amendment Loses.

Tuesday, the great and important general election day has passed, and in Washington county Democracy won a sweeping victory, not a man on the democratic ticket was lost, but instead they won by handsome majorities.

However, the prohibition amendment, which meant so much for sobriety, was lost by a small vote.

Up to the time of going to press, it has been impossible to get returns from all the precincts in the county, so we just give the total vote for the candidates from the precincts heard from.

The precincts heard from are: Nos. 1, 2, 5, 7, 11, 12, 14, 15, 17, 19, 20, 23, 24, 25.

And in these precincts the candidates received the total vote as recorded opposite their names.
